To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to write this recommendation letter on behalf of Francisco Loredo-Reyes. I had the pleasure of teaching him Algebra 2 and enjoy having him in my Pre-calculus class this year. I have enjoyed watching him grow into a mature young adult. He has shown maturity and dedication to finishing high school with a well-rounded education.

Francisco works well with others and is willing to assist anyone in a class. He focuses on the task that needs to be completed and does not allow himself to become distracted from the job that needs to be done. If someone needs help, he will assist them and give them constructive feedback. He is very polite, well behaved and respectful of his friends, peers and teachers.

Francisco's strong work ethic makes him a student that any teacher would enjoy having. He is highly motivated, always on task, and learns from his mistakes. Francisco values learning the material and always asks for extra help when he needs it. I am always pleased with the quality of work he presents and it is evident that he takes pride in his course work. He takes his education seriously and always strives for the best possible grades. Francisco's sense of responsibility and maturity is visible in all of his actions and I feel that he will be a valuable attribute to any program or employer.

It is with great confidence that I give Francisco my highest recommendation. He is an excellent student and continues to show great potential. For further inquisition about Francisco Loredo-Reyes, please feel free to email me at sarah.maas@pontiacschools.org

Sincerely,
Sarah Maas
